SUMMARY OF THE LAST FORTNIGHT'S

NEWS.

Prom Our Own Correspondent.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20, 1858.

When the last steamer for the East left our shores, the Democratic Lecompton and Anti-Lecompton Con ventions and the Republican Convention were sitting at Sacramento. They completed their labors soon after the steamer left. The Lecompton wing of the Democracy nominated Joseph G. Baldwin of San Praceisco for Judge of the Supreme Court and A. R.

Meloney of Contra Costa for State Controller, but made no nominations for Congressmen or Clerk of the Sapreme Court. The Anti-Lecompton wing nominated John L. Curry of Benicia for Judge of the Supreme Court, J. N. Dawley of Nevada for Controller, H. N. Jennings of Butte for Supreme Court Clerk, and J. C. McKibben and Wm. L. Dudley for Congress. The Republican Convention nominated John L. Curry for Supreme Court Judge, Dr. S. C. Gunn of Tuolumus for Controller, and passed resolutions indorsing the courses of Broderick and McKibben in the Senate and House of Representatives during the last session of Congress. The Republican State Central Committee, at a session on Aug. 9, at San Francisco, nominated Frederick P. Tracy and J. C. McKibben as candidates for Congress. It is impossible to foretell the result of the Fail elections, though it is supposed the Anti-Lecompton party will carry the day. In this connection and bearing upon this subject, it may be stated that the San Francisco Democratic primary elections, which were held on the 14th of August, remited in favor of the Anti-Lecompton wing in the prepertion of three to one as against the Lecompton

In San Francisco the People's Reform party, which, se you are aware, rose out of the Vigilance Committee of 1856, still maintains a strong hold and will in all Ekelihood elect its candidates at the approaching elections. The Nominating Committee of this year consists of two members from each of the twelve Districts of the city, appointed by the Nominating Committee of 1857 and submitted for ratification to district meetings of the people. It announced its nominations for the principal local offices on the 18th inst. It has nominated Celeb Burbank for the IVth District Judge, 8. H. Brodie for XIIth District Judge, E. W. Burr for President of the Board of Supervisors, H. S. Brown President of the Board of Supervisors, H. S. Brown for District-Attorney, E. Mickle for Additor, C. R. Bond for Assessor, H. P. Coon for Police Judge, M. J. Burke for Chief of Police, George H. Hossefross for Superintendent of Streets, W. Y. Patch for Tax Collector and Lewis P. Sage for Public Administrator. The candidates for President of the Board of Supervisors, District-Attorney, Anditor, Assessor, Police Judge and Tax Collector are the present incumbents renominated, and it will naturally be inferred that the administration of the city during the last year has been satisfactory, so far at least as the officers named are concerned.

The Democratic and Republican County Conven The Democratic and Republican County Conventions are in session as I write. The latter has nominated S. H. Parker and Gen. C. H. S. Williams for the State Senate, and J. W. H. Cherry, W. W. Shepard, J. M. Taylor, A. A. Hill, J. B. Moore and J. A. Banks for the Assembly. There are two candidates for the Assembly yet to be named. The Democratic Convention met on the evening of the 18th inst. Almost the first thing done was the presentation of anti-Lecompton resolutions, embracing indorsements of Broderick and McKibben. These resolutions were adopted by a vote of 36 to 23. The 23 Administration mea then withdrew and formed an opposition Convention. The cream of the affair is that yesterday morning The Herald and National (Democratic newspapers) came out and denounced the Majority Convention as "bolters."

The Fraser River excitement, which a few months ago seemed destined almost to depopulate our State, has entirely subsided, and there are now many more returning from the North than going up. The news from the new mines continues to be discouraging, and we hear from there only of misery and destitution. Late news reported dog meat to be selling in the Fraser River mines at 50 cents a pound, and scarce at that. To aggravate this state of things, the Indians are very troublesome, and on the upper waters of the anat. To aggravate this state of things, the Indians are very troublesome, and on the upper waters of the Fraser particularly an attack from them was feared by the "Boston men." There had been but little gold found, owing, probably, to the obstinate hight of water, which prevents the miners from working. A fall the water, as you are aware, has been looked forward to for four or five months; at one time it was confithe water, as you are aware, has been looked forward to for four or five months; at one time it was confidently expected to take place in July, but the time seems now to be postponed by general consent till October. At the latest dates the river was rising. As a consequence of this unfavorable news, and of the return of large numbers of miners to California, business in different portions of our State is improving. Rents, which had fallen considerably in San Francisco, have risen to about the same figure as they were before the excitement, and the press throughout the State are congratulating the reading public upon the improving ap" of the Fraser River fever.

Notwithstanding all this, however, no doubts are extertained of the richness of the northern mines. When the river falls only a few feet, quantities of gold are taken from the bars, and should there be a permanent stage of low water a large yield will, beyond much are taken from the bars, and should there be a permament stage of low water a large yield will, beyond much doubt, be the result, and a new excitement will spring up. The California public generally look forward to a relapse of the gold fever in the course of the next two mentls.

The overland mail stage-coach, the first one under the New-Orleans weekly contract, arrived at Placer-ville, in this State, on the 2th inst, having made the through trip in thirty days time, and from Sait Lake. City in tweive days. The four passengers speak in the highest terms of the trip, and say that it can be made, with proper changes, in twenty-six days, or even less time. The Indians, though curious as to the meaning of stages passing through their country, offered no hostility, and appeared disposed to be triendly. You will, however, have received advices on these points by the mail hence to the States. There are said to be parties now in this city making arrangements for a line of telegraphic wire from here to Sait Lake City.

The people of the Atlantic States expect by every arrival from California to hear of many murders, suicides, stabbing affrays and other high crimes and missiedes.

The people of the Atlanta States expect by every arrival from California to hear of many munders, sucides, stabbling affrays and other high crimes and mis demeanors. The principal affair in this line took place on the Stanislans River, about half way between Centre Ferry and Peoria Bar, on the 4th inst. A company of Frenchmen, and, among others, two brothers named Julian and Cadet Bigard, were working a claim there, and yet into a difficulty, in relation to a dam named Julian and Cadet Bigard, were working a chain there, and got into a difficulty, in relation to a dam, with a party of Americans, who were working immediately above them. In the course of an altercation, the French brothers ran to their cabins, seized double-barreled guns, and fired on the marmed Americans, instantly killing Leonard Shock and mortally wounding Abraham Delevan, and seriously perhaps mortally, wounding Geo. J. Crooks. The Frenchmen escaped into the mountains, but were pursued by a party of miners, led by Jacob Pike. They were overtaken, when they turned and fired on the ourseers, killing wounding Geo. J. Crooks. The Frenchmen escaped into the mountains, but were pursued by a party of miners, led by Jacob Pike. They were overtaken, when they turned and fired on the pursuers, killing Robt. Warren, wounding Chas. McKenny and others. They then continued their flight, and have not since been heard of. Great excitement prevailed, at last accounts, in the neighborhood, and parties had started out in all directions, determined to hunt them up, and shoot them in their tracks.

A Mexican on the Merced River, near Snelling, on Ang. 8, murdered his wife with the most cold-blooded and deliberate determination. He had retired to be with her, but while she lay sleeping, got up sand plunged a knife to heart. Another cold-blooded murder was committed in Tehama County on the 4th inst. A man named John B. Ritchie had some trifling words with a negro named A. Bass. The colored man got on a wagon and was driving away, when Ritchie seized a rifle and shot Bass through the left side, severing the aorta. A man named J. Bingham of Nevads, formerly of Ohio, 30 years of age, committed suicide by shooting himself with a rifle, at Mountain Springs. Placer County, on July 31. There have been cases of shooting and stabbing in addition, but none worthy of particular mention. Several cases of stabbing have occurred in San Francisco, but no serious injury done; on the contrary, the city has been remarkably quiet, orderly and peaceable.

Of outrageous assaults, the most remarkable was committed on the night of July 27, near Visalia, in the Tulose Lake country by Wm. Gouverneur Morris, formerly of this city. Morris is a Notary Public. On the night in question, he, J. D. Stapleford and others took a man named Wm. C. Deputy, formerly of Delaware, aged 57 years, and hanged him on a tree three times, demanding that he should sign a deed conveying a quantity of valuable land in San Bernardino County to Stapleford. It is said that Morris struck the old man a number of indignation, and application has been made to have Morris removed fr named John S. Dugan, Patrick Dugan and John Mulloy. The assailants having been arrested, were fined, the first $250, the second $150, and the last $50, by the Police Judge, and they paid the money, $150—rather a dear night of "sky-larking." On the same evening, at Sacramento, a Mr. Parsons was severely beaten by a butcher named Peter Spohn. It seems that Spohn's dog attacked Parsons, and his defense against the dog led to the attack by its owner.

John H. Smith from Iowa, was executed at Napa on the 6th inst., for the murder of B. F. Taylor, at Lower Clear Lake nearly a year ago. He confessed the homicide on the scaffold, but claimed that he acted in self-defense.

There have been a number of deaths by accidents. A few weeks ago a lad 16 years of age, named John

A few weeks ago a lad 16 years of age, named John Raule, was missed from Volcano, Amader County. On the 15th inst. his dead body was found attached by a lariat to a horse. It is supposed that he had laid down leriat to a horse. It is capted to sleep and tied the horse to his person, and that while so tied the horse took fright, and in running dragged the boy to death. The body was horridly mutilated and the flesh in many places rubbed from the bones. J. L. Sargent was accidentally drowned at Chili Bar, El Dorado County, on the 14th inst. He was from Michigan, aged 31 years. John Owen of Shasta, a carpenter, fell from a bridge at the mouth of Spring Creek and was killed, On the 4th unst. Thomas Hignite, an Irishman, was downed in a pond near Sacramento a few days age. He went in to get a duck, but became entangled in the weeds and sank. Judge Win. M. Kincaid of Santa Clara County was killed by the kick of a horse on the 1st inst. Frank duck, but became entangled in the weeds and sank. Judge Wm. M. Kincaid of Santa Clara County was killed by the kick of a horse on the 1st inst. Frank Merte was drowned by accident near Tehama on the 13th inst. Joseph Rodnet, an Englishman, was killed by being thrown from a buggy at Sacremento on the 15th inst. Dennis Casey, a passenger on the steamer Golden Gate, was accidentally shot and killed as he was about disembarking on the 15th inst. George Vehrman, a German, was found dead near this city on the 14th inst.; his head had been pierced with a bullet, but whether by murder, or suicide, or accident is not known. Frank Keniss was accidentally killed on the sloop-of-war St. Marys a few days ago.

Peter Metz, the murderer of Maria Rupp at Sacramento, escaped from the linatic asylum at Stockton on Aug. 11. He had feigned insanity; was sent to the asylum; watched his opportunity, and escaped. The robber, escaped from the Marysville jail on the Toininst.

The most severe fire chronicled during the fortnight eccurred at Georgetown, El Dorado County, on Aug. 16. Almost the entire part of the town within the tounds of Piacer, Orleans, Maiden-lane and Main streets was destroyed. The loss is estimated at $100,000. This is the fourth great fire at Georgetown. Rebuilding has already commenced. A fire took place at Sonora on Aug. 8, by which sixty houses, including a fine Presbyterian church, were destroyed. The loss is said to be $40,000. On Aug. 7 the "Crayeraft" saw-mill of William Illing worth, on the north fork of the Yuha River, was destroyed by fire; loss $5,000.

saw-mill of William Illingworth, on the north fork of the Yuba River, was destroyed by fire; loss $5,000. Four houses were burned at Humbug Forks, Siskiyou County, on July 30; loss $12,000. The Diana building at Sacramento was burned on Aug. 17; loss $2,000. The Bensley Water Works Company have succeed-ed in introducing an abundant stream of pure water into the City of San Francisco. It is conduced by a wooden flume, about seven miles long, built along the shore of the entrance of the bay. The water is taken from Lobes Creek, near Point Lobos. There is suf-ficient head, without the use of pumping machinery. ficient head, without the use of pumping machinery, to supply the fire cisterns in the lower part of the city, and pipes are now being laid to supply hydrants along the whole length of Battery and First streets. doing the whole length of Battery and First streets, it will be months before the reservoirs on the hill back of the city, and the pumping arrangements, are constructed and in working order for general use.

constructed and in working order for general use.

Two natural wenders may be briefly noticed. One is that a severe shock of earthquake was experienced here on the night of the 18th inst.; the other that a heavy shower of rain, of half an hour's duration, fell a few nights ago. In conclusion, and for the honor of Cahfornia, it may be mentioned that Bona Merced Ortega de Castro, a native Californian lady of Montecy, has by one husband 36 children, all living. An tem to this effect is going the rounds, and the newspapers are crowing over it.

THE PEOPLE'S REFORM PARTY OF SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19, 1858. The nomination of candidates for local officers that a brief account of it and its present condition might, perhaps, be read with interest in New-York and other Eastern cities. It will readily be seen that your correspondent is favorably disposed toward the party; but he is conscienciously so and has no private interest whatever to subserve. The next elections will have taken place before this is read, and besides, the writer neither seeks, expects. nor wishes any office.

San Francisco now presents the strange and anomalous spectacle of a municipality disregarding national political questions in local affairs, and making the test of qualification for office not Democracy or Republicanism, not Lecomptonism or Anti-Lecomptonism, but personal character alone. In no other part of the Union, pechaps, is there so rigid and searching a scrutiny instituted into the reputation and private character of a candidate for office as now in San Francisco. The question is not "Is he a Buchanau or a Broderick man ?" but "Is he a capable man, and is his reputation good !" The newspapers of the city, when commenting upon candidates for local office, do not mention their politics, but are filled with investigamention their politics, but are filled with investiga-tions into their moral and personal qualities. This state of things commenced in the year 1856, and was initiated by the party named above—the Peo-ple's Reform, as it is called—which sprang out of the Vigilance Committee. It was one of the fundamental principles of that party that national politics should be discarded in local affairs, and since the party has been in power this principle has been in practical operation, and our officials have been men of various political creeds—some Democrats, some Republicans: in fact, none but the personal acquaintances of our officers can tell what kind of a national or State neket they vote. In pursuance of this principle, the party, at its first organization, nominated and succeeded in electing a set of officers, all of them men of unquestioned character and known business qualifica-tions. These men, having their interests identical with those of the city, gave almost complete satis-faction, and we have, indeed, enjoyed under them a model city government.

The Board of Supervisors, which of old consisted of such men as Casey and other unscrupulous poli-ticians, for the last two years has been composed of business men of tried honesty. While the munici-pality in old times was robbed and plundered, and pality in old times was robbed and plundered, and plunged into almost hopeless bankruptcy, the new administration has pursued a continued system of retrenchment, which has filled the treasury and placed the city and county finances on a substantial basis again. The Police Judge also has worked a great revolution in his department of the government, and, without much knowledge of law, as laid down in the books, has exercised his great interest and interest laid down in the books, has exercised his great in-tellectual sagacity with so much fairness and jus-tice to all, that the entire community are loud in his praise. So also with almost all the other officers, men of industry and personal worth having been se-lected, and their duties having been performed with scrupulous care, the party has succeeded in pro-longing its organization, and is, perhaps, stronger to-day than when the circumstances which called it into life were fresh before the minds of the people. While, three or four years ago, no city in the Union was more cursed with evil rulers, and no body of officers were more open to charges of corruption than those of San Francisco, for the last two years, we venture to say, no city in the Union has been better governed, or more security been afforded to life, liberty and property. None of the new officers have been defaulters in any respect (almost every one of the old officers were defaulters); no charges of corruption have been brought; no suspicions of dishonesty are even breathed against them. The memory of what the party has thus already accom-plished, the splendor of its first acts, remains as a bond of union, embracing not only the original founders but many others, who have eyes to see and ears to hear what the reform movement has done.

I am aware that my picture is a bright one, and that but little greater praise could be given to an Administration; but it is true, little as it may be credited in most American cities, where national politics hangs around the municipality like the old man of the sea about the neck of Sinbad. I say it is true, the past two years have shown it, and the present posture of affairs, for the success of the Reform party at the approaching elections seems to be conceded on all hands, still further shows it.

The menner in which nominations of this year were made, was by a Committee of twenty-four, two delegates from each city district, appointed by the nominating committee of 1857, and submitted for ratification or rejection to district meet-ings of the people. The Nominating Committee of 1858, thus chosen, has been sitting more than a week canvassing the claims of candidates for office. Their sittings have not been public, but considerable is known of their mode of action, and the kind of qualifications which have availed with them. est of the present officers have been renominated, but in some instances new men have been put for-Nominating Committee in regard to one of them, the Chief of Police, will be taken to illustrate the remarks made above. There have been a number of applicants for the office of Chief of Police, it would be invidious to name, but it may be stated that they are nearly all good men in the ordinary acceptation of the term. One, an able man it other respects, and who would otherwise, in al probability, receive the nomination, has been as-certained to gamble to some small extent, and has, therefore, been rejected. Another, who enjoys a perfectly good reputation for morality and inte-grity, has been rejected, because baving been on the public force for several years, he has made none or few important arrests, in other words, has not exhibited that energy, which is now a requisite for nomination. The Committee went outside, of the names before them, and offered the nomination to an able and energetic warehouseman, but he declined on account of inability to serve, his resi dence being, and likely to remain, a few miles out of the city, while his presence at all hours, day and night, would be requisite in the city to faithfully fulfill the duties. The Committee then selected the manner in which the Reform party are carrying on their work. The same system has hitherto pervaded the party, and it seems that the same system being followed in regard to all the nominations. It can scarcely be hoped that this state of affairs will last; but as it still exists, it is admirable and worthy of imitation. A remarkable proof of the stress laid by the Reform party upon private moral character occurred during the last fortnight. It became known that the Prosecuting-Attorney of the Police Court had an intrigue with the wife another man. This, as appears, before it became public, came to the husband's knowledge, and papers were even drawn up between him and the ttorney, that a divorce should be procured and the attorney marry the woman. The attorney, a young man of apparently irreproachable character in other respects, made a good officer and gave great satisfaction. No sooner, however, was it known that this stain existed, though totally unconnected with his official character, than the Board of Supervisors demanded his dismissal from office, and would have cashiered him had he not resigned.

The President is very anxious to close up, in some shape, all the difficulties that New-Granada has not only with the United States, but Europe. On the adjournment of Congress, the members and the population were invited to examine the surveys and report made by Capt. Williamson, on the Cali and Bueno Ventura Railroad route. Among those who attended the meeting was your correspondent, anxious to see some of his countrymen's work, which has been so highly spoken of in all parts of the country. Much of the indignation I felt against Gen. Mosquera for the part he took against the treaty, was cooled off when I saw his tall form rise in the large assembly present, viewing the surveys and explore tion four miles on each side of the lines, as laid down. The General called the over 900 feet in length. The General called the assemblage to order; he remarked that the survey's explorations were made at his expense, in behalf of the Company, by Capt. John D. Williamson, as Engineer-in-Chief, one of the children of the great North American Republic, a gentleman whose fame is well known in New-Granada, and throughout South America for his perseverence and energy in exploring and bringing to public knowledge the resources of the continent. Williamson, had not cost the sum of $10,000. If it had been done in the United States under any other engineer, with all the facil-ties there, it would have cost $50,000. Capt. Williamson deserved great credit for this beautiful and correct survey and report, for the Army En gineers who were sent to examine it had so re-ported to Congress. He congratulated the compastockholders and our citizens that Capt. Wil liamson had been appointed Engineer-in-Chief. His hope now was that he would accept the position, and the road under his persevering care and energy would be completed in the time he speci-fied, as they had had any amount of money re-quired to finish the road offered to the Company under his direction, not only here but from Europe. After the General took his seat, Gen. Mc of the House of Representatives made sor remarks about the survey and its importance to New-Granada, and also to the Panama Railroad. And if Governments would lay aside their political opinions in diplomatic appointments, and appoint those who were suited for the position, the difficult ties which spring up between nations would be set tled without the aid of armies and navies. truly believed if the gentleman at the head of that survey had been one of the parties to settle the dif-ficulties now existing between the two countries, they would have been settled in 1857.
P. S.—My next, I hope, will be dated from the region of the Moss Emerald Mines, which shall visit next; also the valley of the auca to the south; also the Sait Mines of Canca to the south; also the Salt Mines of the interior. A friend at my elbow says the reason of General Mosquera's opposition to the treaty was because the Government here believed the United States were trying to destroy the trade of the Isthmus, by compelling, in their contracts, all new lines of steamers south of the Isthmus to go to Tehuantepee when the route is opened, and all the influence of the South is to be put forth for the stipend New-Granada is now receiving from the Panama read; and my friend says that was the reason the President used his influence for the treaty as it came from the United States.

Hart of the Seventeenth Precinct, was hauled up before the Mayor on Saturday to account for his free-love pro-clivities. Officer McMillan is a stout, red-faced, party man of about 35. The complainant against him was his wife, a neat little woman of about the same are, who was accompanied by their daughter, a girl of it. The third party in the case was a rosy-cheeked lame of 20, who was to have been the victim of his Mermo-istic tendencies. Mrs. McMillan stated to the Mayor that her husband had abandoned her without Peace. and refused to contribute anything toward the support of herself or of their daughter. She further states that he had frequently ill-used her, inflicting personal violence, because she dared to ask him to maintain her. Not along ago, she learned that her husband intended to marry the young lady present, Miss of the young woman, and apprised them that he was six weeks ago McMillan came into her fathers house to quell a disturbance between the old getteman and her brother-in-law. While there, he seems to take a great fancy to her, and before he left, invisi her to accompany him the next day to the festives Jones's Wood. FATAL ACCIDENT .- On or about the last of August Daniel Cronin, then a Clerk in the Coast Survey Office. Washington, D. C., came to this city to witness the great Atlantic Cable celebration, which took place of the let inst. A night or two afterward, he visited the disreputable house, No. 48 Leonard street, in compart with a friend or two—he then being much under the fluence of liquor. A few bottles of wine were indusin by the female inmates of the place, at the expeof the visitors; and Cronin at last became so intoxicated that his friends put him to bed in a second story back-room, intending that he should remain the until perfectly sobered. The door was locked and its key pocketed by one of the girls. Some three been afterward, Mrs. Brown, the proprietress, as be guests while sitting in the parlor, heard a crash in the yard, and, running to the spot, found that free had opened the window of his apartment, caped or fell out. In his descent he struck apes s wooden fence, one of the pickets of which pierced his left side and back, and it was with much difficulty that he could be removed. On examination, it  found that he had been frightfully wounded, and a time was lost in sending him to the New-York Hoptal. He continued to decline gradually till Saturday when he expired. Coroner Gamble held an inquest the body, when the above facts appeared. The jury rendered a verdict of death from " fracture of the per vis, caused by falling out of a window at No. 48 Learn ard street, Sept. 4, 1858." Cronin was 27 years age, and a native of Washington, D. C. His and brother, who had arrived in New-York previous to his decease, conveyed his remains back to West
